Partitioning panels

Adiabatic cooling

Options and accessories

Partitioning panels

Equipping a unit with partition panels provides an individual air intake duct for each and every fan on the adiabatic cooler. This guarantees a higher capacity in case of fan failure by avoiding unintended air flows through an idle fan which bypasses the coil.

Want to benefit from partitioning panels? Contact your local BAC representative.